

Hertford County Board of Education Appoints Glasher Robinson as HCPS Principal at Hertford County Early College High School

Winton, NC - The Hertford County Board of Education is pleased to announce the appointment of Glasher Robinson as the new Principal of Hertford County Early College High School. The decision was made at the regularly scheduled board meeting on June 24, 2024. Robinson brings a wealth of experience from her previous roles as an assistant principal at Dudley High School and Hairston Middle School in Greensboro, NC. During her tenure, she supervised the Early College Academy Program at Dudley, managed the student services and exceptional children's departments, oversaw Title I programs, and contributed to improving graduation rates. Her dedication to holistic student development was highlighted through her involvement in the 2024 Social Emotional Learning Community Day committee for Guilford County Schools.

Robinson's career in education spans over a decade, beginning as a high school science teacher at the Middle College at Guilford Technical Community College in High Point. She holds a bachelor's degree in Biology from Elizabeth City State University, a master's degree in Science Education from Georgia State University, and an Educational Leadership from High Point University (HPU). Robinson was a member of the inaugural cohort of the HPU Leadership Academy program and is pursuing a doctoral degree in Educational Leadership at HPU. She is an active member of several professional organizations, including the North Carolina Association of Educators, Pi Lambda Theta, Delta Kappa Gamma International Society, and the North Carolina Science Leadership Association.

Dr. Jesse J. Pratt is thrilled to welcome Mrs. Robinson to HCPS and is confident that her extensive experience will drive continued progress at Hertford County Early College High School.
